3. It examined with the parties the several occasion of tentative settlements reported to the Board between January 1st and March 31st, 1996.
4. It received from the Town a motion to further remand these proceedings for further consideration by a personnel advisory board, a procedure previously agreed to by the parties but never concluded.
5. It directed the parties that they must conclude any further actions before a personnel advisory board on or before May 30, 1996 after which this matter will be scheduled for further hearing before the PELRB without continuance, unless the parties notify the PELRB that the pending matter has been settled or withdrawn before that date.
